JUDGE IS PEACEMAKER.

Advices Jules Gerard and His Wife to Live in Harmony—Continues Assault Case for Six Months.

Jules Gerard was tried before Judge Arnold Thursday morning for an assault Wednesday on his father-in-law, John G. Potter. Mr. Potter told the court that Gerard left his wife at South Coventry Wednesday and came to Willimantic. He called at Attorney Harvey's office for legal advice and found the lawyer had been retained by Mrs. Gerard and was told to secure other counsel. The young man requested his father-in-law to meet him (Gerard) at the store where he was employed and Gerard ordered Mr. Potter out of the establishment, it being claimed he used abusive language. Mr. Potter and his daughter went to the railroad station, where Gerard followed them, and attempted to take the baby away from the mother. Mr. Potter said Gerard struck him and two traveling men took Gerard away from Potter. The accused then followed Mr. Potter and his daughter to Lawyer Harvey's office; when in front of a hotel street store Gerard struck his father-in-law again.

Mr. Potter informed Judge Arnold Mr. and Mrs. Gerard had been living at his (Potter's) house, that Gerard caused trouble by drinking too much and had paid no board. Gerard's explanation of the trouble was that while he had not paid a definite weekly amount for board he had bought $500 worth of furniture for the Potter household, with the understanding (Gerard) and his wife should take it with them when the young couple went to housekeeping. He said his father-in-law lost his job last fall and that he (Gerard) had paid the household expenses. The difficulty, Gerard stated, was because his wife refused to go to housekeeping last fall and that the unpleasantness was the cause of his drinking habits.

He admitted striking Mr. Potter, but denied trying to take the child from his mother, claiming that the baby excused him from going to jail and he kissed it. Gerard expressed his wish to establish a home of his own and said that if his family could live by themselves there would be no trouble. Gerard's employer testified that the defendant was a steady worker and he did not know him drinking man. Mrs. Gerard said her husband's treatment of her was satisfactory up to about six months ago; that he drank at times and did not think it was wise for them to live in Willimantic.

Judge Arnold outlined a policy of living in harmony for the young couple. He told them the duties they owed to each other. The case was continued for six months, when it will be nolleed if conditions warrant.

JUDGE BARNHART DOES HIS DUTY TO RHEUMATISM SUFFERERS

If you suffer from Rheumatism and don't read this advice, then the terrible disease must have you. Read it. "John Barnhart, Justice of the Peace of Willimantic, Vt. Laramie, Ohio, who has been treated by three doctors without result, has been cured by a rare case of Rheumatism. He has been using two bottles of RHEUMA. It is now two years since I used the RHEUMA. It was a terrible disease, walking with crutches, and I feel it my duty to tell others who suffer from Rheumatism, know what I will do. The result seems almost miraculous to me. I have advised RHEUMA to at least a dozen persons, and each one speaks as highly of it as I. I will answer any one suffering from this disease if a one cent stamp is enclosed. May 21, 1912. You can secure a bottle of RHEUMA for only 25 cents at the L. & O. Drug Store, and they say if not so advertised, money back. It's just as good for Gout, Arthritis, Lumbago and Sciatica."

To Consider Matter of Footbridge. The matter will be considered at the special town meeting next Wednesday afternoon.

The footbridge, many think, should have been replaced by a bridge over the river, but the matter of securing a new bridge is doubtful.

It was shown that the land in question, the ten acres, was the property of another person. The plaintiff claimed damages of $125, the defendant claiming the land was worth only about $40.
